We celebrate 70 years! | TheBrandGuide #3
TEAC - an unchanging origin.

Step into the world of audio aficionados as TEAC, the renowned Japanese company, commemorates its remarkable 70-year journey in the business.

In the fast-paced world of consumer electronics, B2B customers need a reliable partner to enhance their offerings and stay ahead of the competition. TEAC, a leading player in the industry, emerges as the perfect choice.

- Rich history of 70 years in delivering cutting-edge audio solutions.
- Modular, comprehensive lineup - TEAC offers everything from entry-level record players for under 200 euros (TR-170) to high-quality network players for 3,000 euros (SD-703.6), an audio range for almost every price. The units can be modularly combined and are therefore perfectly suited to inspire customers near and over again.
- Excellent distribution throughout Europe - By concentrating on one distributor TEAC is able to offer uniform conditions throughout Europe and invest in long-term partnerships with dealers.
- Attractive margins - Those who go with TEAC and understand the benefits of the brand, are rewarded with attractive margins, high average revenues and loyal, satisfied customers.

TEAC has been writing music history for 70 years.

The recording devices of the subsidiary Tascam are well-known and popular among professional studios, and famous albums have been recorded with TEAC. TEAC's tape recorders were also used to record 60-62 and C-90 in the first Blue Note records. Technologically, TEAC has always worked at the limit of what is possible. The famous VRDS is just one of many innovations that reproduce music from CDs with utmost clarity and purity.
